GUNBOATS READY TO ACT IN NICARAGUA

SEES BIG FUTURE FOR HONOLULU CITY

Ion L. Clark, one of the richest men in Los Angeles, in talking this morning just before the Wilhelmina sailed, about Honolulu and her future said:

"I have every confidence in the future of what I think is one of the greatest cities in the world."

"During the few short weeks that I have been able to say in this beautiful city, I have heard every point of view on every topic concerning the financial and social conditions existing here and I hope that in the very near future Honolulu will be even a greater city than she is now."

"I was surprised when I arrived here to find everything so up to date as it is, and I freely confess that I was taken back as one does hear such funny accounts at times of things and places. Honolulu in my mind is a place that has a very bright future ahead, but some things must be changed if Honolulu is to become an attraction to tourists. From what I can learn a good art of the business in this city is controlled by a few men who seem to have everything to say, but as the city grows larger that will all be changed."

"I came down here for the sole purpose of looking over the field from an investment standpoint and I am convinced that the money that I have left behind will bring forth good fruit in time although I don't expect everything at once. From a conservative standpoint I would say that Honolulu has a number of good fields for investments, and foreign capital will come here if the local people will make any effort for it."

Mr. Clark expressed himself strongly against prohibition. "I shall return to Honolulu I hope in a few weeks," Mr. Clark said, "and will probably remain here for at least six months every year."

WILHELMINA TAKES MANY NOTABLES

By far the largest crowd ever present to see a steamer off for the coast was on hand at the Matson dock this morning to say goodbye to the 115 passengers that left on the Wilhelmina. Long before the hour set for sailing automobiles and hacks rolled down to the wharf, and by a quarter of ten fully three thousand people were on the ship and wharf.

On account of a large crowd at one time on the gangway the fabric nearly carried away, the result being a rush for the wharf. As a result of the terrible congestion at the top of the gangway the Matson officials will in future probably use the double system such as is used on the big steamers leaving New York and European cities.

Berger played as usual before the steamer left, a number of new pieces being given which were very much appreciated by the strangers who left, among the most prominent being Sir James Mills, president and managing director of the Union Steamship company of Australia.

Judging from the leis in evidence very few were left in Honolulu. In addition to the passengers a full cargo of island produce was taken. There were twenty-six persons in the steerage, among them being a number of Russians bound for different parts of California.

Of the departing passengers the most prominent are:

General McClellan accompanied by his family, going to Washington to live. Miss Rose and Josephine McClellan were covered with leis and carried beautiful bunches of American beauty roses which had been sent them by their many friends. These two young maidens will be greatly missed by the members of the younger set in society.

Louis Ayres, the architect who came here to look over the Federal building site, returns to complete the plans with his firm in New York.

C. G. Bockus, the well-known capitalist, is bound for his mines in California. He will be absent about six weeks.

Mrs. P. R. Brinckerhoff, accompanied by Dr. Brinckerhoff's son, are leaving Honolulu for an indefinite stay.

Ion L. Clark, the well-known Los Angeles millionaire, is returning home after a pleasant visit of several months spent in Honolulu.

Dr. E. H. Hand, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., is bound for New York to purchase equipment for the new gymnasium.

W. L. Heilbron left for an extended trip to the coast. While he is away he will visit his daughter Mrs. Childs in San Francisco.

P. L. Horne and Mrs. Horne of Kamehameha schools are bound for a pleasure tour of the States. They will return the early part of September.

D. H. Hitchcock, the well-known artist, and Mrs. Hitchcock are taking their annual trip to the mainland.

Captain Johnson hopes to arrive in San Francisco early next Tuesday morning.

REMARKABLE CASE OF LAW MAKING INNOCENT SUFFER

PROSPECTIVE DEPORT'S BONDSMEN LOSE, THOUGH COURT RECOGNIZES THAT DEFENDANT FULLY INTENDED TO SURRENDER HIMSELF TO JUSTICE—BRECKONS KNEW, SAYS JUDGE ROBERTSON, THAT CHINESE WAS ON A VOYAGE AND MIGHT HAVE CONSENTED TO A CONTINUANCE.

Chinese Sailor Ching Kim Hee, because he missed steamship connections, has forfeited his recognizance bond and his sureties are out $1,000 already paid.

Appeal in this regard is in vain. Says U. S. Judge Robertson in decision rendered this morning:

"An order forfeiting the penalty of a recognizance given on appeal to the District Court from an order of a U. S. Commissioner, because of the non-appearance of the defendant, is a final judgment, and it cannot be vacated or reopened at a term of court subsequent to that at which it was made."

Douthitt & Coke for the movant. W. T. Rawlins assistant U. S. Attorney for the government.

"On August 4, 1909, a complaint was sworn to by U. S. District Attorney Breckons was filed alleging that Ching Kim Hee is a Chinese laborer within the Territory without the certificate of residence as required by law. Upon a hearing before a U. S. Commissioner, an order of deportation was made on August 6, 1909, the Commissioner finding said Ching Kim Hee to be unlawfully and without right within the United States. From that order the defendant took an appeal and gave recognizance for appearance in the sum of $1,000 with two sureties, conditioned that the defendant should personally appear February 1, 1909, and from time to time thereafter as the case might be continued, to answer the charge of being a Chinese laborer and within the limits of the Territory without a certificate of residence. The defendant was thereupon released from custody. On the 18th of February, 1910, the defendant Breckons was filed alleging that Ching Kim Hee is a Chinese laborer within

EX-CONVICT STANDS BY PRESIDENT

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Former Superintendent Spitzer of the American Sugar Refining Company's Williamsburg wharves, who was serving two years for sugar weighing frauds and who was pardoned by President Taft on May 19, was on the stand again today to continue detailing the tricky methods of the concern in swindling the government out of revenue by scales that had been tampered with. His testimony against the sugar grafters was unshaken on cross examination. He declared that he was not promised a pardon for the sake of testifying. The government will probably rest its case tomorrow.

90 HOURS HUNGRY

Six of the seven Russians who are guests at the County Jail are still refusing to eat, the only one of the number that has taken a bite for nine, ten hours is a man that Dr. Mackall thinks is crazy. A guard went around as usual this morning with the meals for the prisoners, but when he returned with a tray to take the dishes away he found that the Russians' food had been untouched.

Vasileff still continues to ask for the Russian doctor, but the authorities are perfectly satisfied that City and County physician Mackall can attend to the prisoners if they need medical assistance. The last time that the men saw Jailer Asche, a little before two o'clock this afternoon they stated that they would continue to starve until they were released. As their term of imprisonment amounts to three months it is quite likely that they will die before that time if they still refuse to eat.

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, May 25.—A schooner flying the flag of the United States, which arrived here this morning, has been searched by the government authorities, it having been suspected that she was bringing arms and ammunition to the troops of the provisional government. The schooner is the Esfuerzo.

The Madriz gunboat Venus is here, as are also the American gunboats Panacah and Dubuque, and it is expected that they will act together in the event of it becoming necessary to protect British and American interests.

Fighting between the troops of the regular government forces and the entrenched provisionals still goes on, but neither side, so far, appears to have obtained any advantage.
